

RibRunner®

Sub-Purlin System

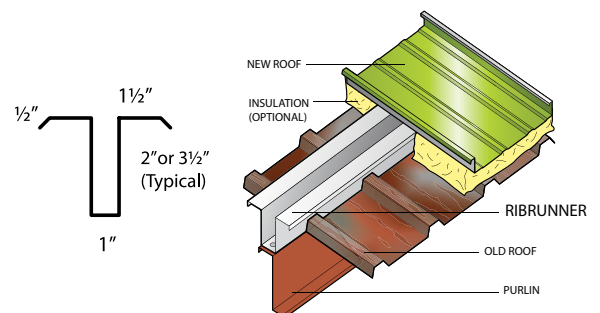

An affordable new method for reroofing commercial projects

The RibRunner® sub-purlin system is an economical alternative to replacing an existing metal roof. A metal over metal retrofit system, RibRunner® allows for a new metal roof to be installed over the existing worn out metal roof. It can increase the wind uplift value of the roofing structure, can increase energy efficiency, and strengthens edge and corner zones.

RibRunner® sub-purlin is available in several different designs, including a Zee strip, to fit over almost any existing metal roof.

- Minimal business interruptions during installation.
- Customized lengths - standard is 16'
- Product is special order, longer lead times may apply.
